Million Little Things is returning to ABC for a third season. Season 3 of A Million Little Things premieres on Thursday, November 19. The show's creator, DJ Nash, is keeping the plot of the new season a secret for now, but we know some interesting details about upcoming episodes. It's official: Million Little Things is returning to ABC this fall for round three, and you can count on it being full of drama. In fact, series creator DJ Nash already had the stories of his characters planned through a third season in August 2019. Can't wait to see what's in store for Eddie (David Giuntoli), Roma (Romany Malco), Regina (Christina Moses) and the rest of the cast? With season 3 of A Million Little Things officially taking place, it's possible that screenwriters choose to focus on some characters more than others, ultimately omitting certain actors in the series entirely. That's what happened with season 2, after all: While season 1 focused on the mystery surrounding Jon's death, season 2 focused on the mysteries surrounding Maggie's mother Patricia (Melora Hardin) and PJ (Chandler Riggs) — and Jon (Ron Livingston) no longer a significant part of the show. For now, fans can rest assured that David Giuntoli, Romany Malco, Allison Miller, Christina Moses, Grace Park, James Roday Rodriguez, Stephanie Szostak, Tristan Byon, Lizzy Greene, Chance Hurstfield and Floriana Lima will return for the season 3 premiere. Are there any spoilers from season 3 of A Million Little Things? While DJ remains closed-mouthed about what's to come, he revealed that the ABC drama will bring real-life problems to the small screen. Fans should expect to see the ongoing coronavirus pandemic and the explored Black Lives Matter movement, which will elevate and increase the stories and challenges the characters are facing, according to Deadline. There are a lot of stories that have come from both the lives of the actors and the lives of the writers we're going to tell, given all that we're going through as a world now and really a country now, said the DJ during a panel of paleyfest New York, according to the statement. The way COVID reaches this world and the way Black Lives Matter is going to reach this group of friends, is to be very moving. In addition, season three will explore topics such as depression, breast cancer and friendship, among other important topics. This content is imported from {embed-name}. On the night of his return, the hit sitcom will air two new episodes. Fans can expect to see some amazing new characters and stories this season. Longtime fans of the popular CBS sitcom Life in Pieces know that the show -- and with it, the Short family -- usually makes its annual debut between September and November. So when fall 2018 came and went without any word from a season 4 premiere date, many wondered: Life in Pieces has been canceled?! The good news: Life in Pieces has, in fact, been renewed for a fourth season, and will make its long-awaited return to TV during the week very soon. Meanwhile, here's everything we know about season 4 so far. This content is imported from {embed-name}. Not only has Life in Pieces not been canceled, but fans will also be on an extra gift on the night of the show's return: On Thursday, April 18, CBS will premiere not one, but two new episodes of the sitcom, with the first (titled Jungle Resort Push Anniversary) aired at 8:30 p.m./7:30 p...m. CT and the second (titled Demo Nosebreath Surgery Match) airs at 9:30 pm/8:30 pm.m CT. The following week, the sitcom will return to normal 9:30 p.m.m. The cast of Life in Plays is growing into at least one. Che RosalesGetty Images Hopes to see all of his favourites - Dianne Wiest, James Brolin, Colin Hanks, Zoe Lister-Jones and the rest of the Short family - return this season. But you'll also want to keep your eyes open for a new recurring character. In August, TVLine reported that actress Joey King would join the show as Morgan, a 17-year-old pregnant woman who plans to place her baby with adoptive parents Matt and Colleen (who are played Tyler's girlfriend Clementine since she was introduced during season 1 of the show. The first two episodes will jump right into the silly and the serious. According to the episode synopses available on TV Guide, the first episode of season 4 will follow the family vacation in the Yucatan, then the second episode dives deeper into matt and colleen's adoption journey and The Pregnancy of Greg and Jen. Read: Things Will Stay real for the Super Fast Short family. CBS Photo ArchiveGetty Images And the Short family may face some rough patches. Not much has been revealed about the plot of season 4 of Life in Pieces yet, but a cryptic teaser from CBS suggests it may not all be a silly mischief for the Shorts: This time, they'll be getting some new family members, resurfacing an unexpected health crisis, and revealing some long-hidden secrets in an unexpected way, says an official CBS blog post. As for what this really means to Heather, Matt, Greg, and their families... only time will tell! The final season of the comedy will feature everyone from the original cast, including all the children. Nolan Gould, Jesse Tyler Ferguson and other stars shared emotional messages about the end of the show. Don't cry because we still have one last season after season Fortunately, there are still many episodes we can expect in the coming months. While we can barely bear the thought, here's everything to know about the final season of Modern Family: When's 'Modern Family' back? The eleventh edition of the family sitcom will premiere on Wednesday, September 25, at 9 p.m.m. ET. Which cast members will be back? According to Deadline, the original actors are probably all returning. The outlet states that adult stars -- Ed O'Neill, Julie Bowen, Ty Burrell, Jesse Tyler Ferguson, Eric Stonestreet and Sofia Vergara -- signed new deals with the network in December. Details of the original children's cast —Sarah Hyland, Ariel Winter, Nolan Gould and Rico Rodriguez—have not yet been officially released, but The Hollywood Reporter notes that the renewal depended on their return. Series co-creator Steve Levitan also shared a photo of the cast on the first day of shooting —and included all the original stars (plus the newest addition Aubrey-Anderson Emmons). One YouTube commenter said what we're all thinking: These can be the best five minutes of my life. How many episodes will there be in season 11? From now on, it looks like we can expect between 18 to 22 episodes in the final season. Based on co-creator Christopher Lloyd, it seems there is still much more that writers have in mind for the Dunphy-Pritchett-Tucker clan. From our point of view creatively, we were excited to write this season and changed the lives of the characters' lives,' he told Entertainment Weekly. This content is imported from {embed-name}. You may be able to find the same content in another format, or you may be able to find more information on your website. Of course, little has been shared about what will happen in this latest issue, especially considering co-creator Steve Levitan said: I thought season 10 would be that. (So glad he was wrong!) Although there has been a shocking death, an unexpected pregnancy, and an endless amount of laughter in season 10, it seems there's plenty to look forward to in the funny family's farewell moments. In its final season, there will be more landmark events than anyone who has been a fan of the series will not want to miss, said ABC Entertainment President Karey Burke. How does the cast feel about ending the show? If you think you're sad about the last season of Modern Family, it's nothing compared to what the cast is going through. Several stars went on social media to share emotional messages after the news broke. This content is imported from Instagram. You may be able to find more information on your website. Nolan, who plays Luke Dunphy, wrote: So glad I can spend another year with this cast and crew. And grateful for the race we had. What a journey it's been. Thank you for taking him with us.
